WOMEN'S PART IN CASTRO CUBA

When Fidel Castro opened the floodgates more than a year ago that permitted thousands of Cubans to leave Castro-land for the United States, he also opened the floodgates for numerous stories which indicate all is not well behind the smoke screen of communist propaganda that he has created.

Typical of this is the experience of one Cuban professional woman who, at the time of the Bay of Pigs invasion, was conscripted to stand guard duty before an official government building. Neither she nor any other woman in her guard section, except the active recruiter for the section, had ever seen a cartridge before or had ever fired a rifle. After a rifle had been issued to her she was given no practice with it and did not even know how it operated. To Castro and his henchmen, however, these were unnecessary incidents. The time which could have been used in teaching her to handle the weapon was put to a more important use in Castro's mind. She was afforded constant indoctrination which basically consisted of lectures of an anti-United States nature.

Dignity of the individual has no place in the communist regime that has a strangle hold on Cuba today. Any woman physically able is expected to serve in the Cuban militia when called upon to do so without complaint and without protest. Yet, protest against the regime continues to reveal itself in the thousands upon thousands of native Cubans who find it necessary to desert the land of their birth and seek a new life among those whom Castro has declared to be his mortal enemies.

5. SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITIES

A reliable source has stated that all crewmen aboard Cuban vessels operating between Cuba and Canada must be well screened. There has been little stowaway activity and desertions aboard these vessels this season. A very strict screening of crewmen for Pro-Castro supporters, a thorough search of all departing vessels and the dire consequences awaiting those caught in any way helping some leave Cuba without an exit permit, has discouraged stowaway activities. Many old time seamen are not allowed to go to sea now since they have not demonstrated enough Pro-Castro sentiment. This has forced the Cuban Government to put young, inexperienced men as officers aboard their vessels. Captains under 30 years of age are not uncommon.

Rebulet to Legat, London, 7/28/66.

On 8/11/66, [REDACTED] who is acquainted with various members of the Cuban Embassy, Mexico, D. F., advised that he had received no information which would indicate that any of the employees of the Embassy might be in trouble or facing unwanted rotation home. He stated that he had been alert for any indication of situations arising of this type. b1

[REDACTED] continues to be in regular contact with the Cuban Embassy. (S) b1

No information has been received from other sources of this office which would indicate that the reported investigation of Cuban diplomatic employees by their Foreign Ministry had provoked any insecurity among the staff assigned to Mexico City. It is noted that if anyone felt insure, the recent arrest of [REDACTED] for involvement in arms smuggling could well have provided the situation in which a person might have expected an investigation of the Embassy by Security Police during which his own activities and attitudes could come under scrutiny. There has been no such apparent result. b7C

Mexico City will continue to be alert for any indication of unrest among the Cuban Embassy staff and such will be promptly called to the attention of the Bureau.

Attention is directed to that portion of the LHM indicating that fires are being intentionally set in order to destroy documentary proof that Cuban Government Administrators have been mis-managing funds and property.

The system employed in order to get "volunteer workers" to perform more work is also believed to be of unusual interest since special, trained Communist workers are brought in to perform a large amount of work and work extra hours just for a brief time in order to convince the local regular workers that they should work harder and be willing to put in more hours.

Any further interesting developments in the Cuban political field will be promptly reported to the Bureau.

RE: FOREIGN POLITICAL MATTERS - CUBA

[REDACTED], and who maintains contact with some sources still in Cuba, furnished the following information on January 13, 1967:

b2
b7D

FRAUDULENT OPERATIONS

[REDACTED] stated the Cuban Government has now embarked on a program of inspections of the State Farms, Houses of the People, and other Government Departments, for the purpose of uncovering frauds committed by the Administrators and Directors of these centers of the government. Source stated this measure was taken because very recently it has been discovered that funds and merchandise produced or distributed by Government Administrators have been mis-managed.

b7D

[REDACTED] stated that mysterious fires have occurred in some of the departments undergoing inspection and the Government believes the fires are intentional, or started by counter-revolutionaries. There is further indication that the Government believes that the persons in charge of the centers have set the fires because they were afraid of being discovered and called to an accounting for their fraudulent operations. The destruction of documentary proof would, of course, lessen the Government's chances for convictions.

ENCLOSURE

RESTRICTIONS ON DEPARTURES

[REDACTED] stated that very real alarm is growing amongst the Cuban refugees because of reports given by refugees recently arriving in the United States to the effect that news has leaked out from Cuban Government centers indicating that several thousand applications of persons who have applied for permission to leave the country have been removed. b2 b7D

Refugees report that the forms have not been lost but they have intentionally been withheld by the Cuban Government in order to be re-inspected and in order to do everything possible to prevent the departure of a family having a boy over 12 years of age even though officially 15 is the age which has been fixed for the rejection of permission to depart Cuba. Fifteen years is, of course, the age for military induction under the latest Cuban military conscription program.

NEW RADIO TOWERS

[REDACTED] stated that near the city of Palma Soriano, Province of Oriente, the Cuban Government is completing the construction of two high towers allegedly to be used for either radio or television transmission. Cubans have been used for the regular labor in the construction of these towers but the work has been directed by Russian personnel. The official Cuban version is that these towers are being built in order to make Cuban radio stations more audible abroad. b2 b7D

"VOLUNTEER" WORK GROUPS

[REDACTED] stated that in order to get the most out of the hours of work spent in the fields by the so-called "volunteer workers", who are sent out to the fields from the main cities, including Havana, it has become the custom in Cuba to call that period of time "Hours of Conscience". The Government intends that each worker try to give as many hours of volunteer work as possible and set for himself a goal which is humanly impossible to reach. The examples are set by Communist workers who are specialists in each type of work being done; these specialists are sent on a circuit from one place to another. For example, when they arrive at a certain farm or work center, they stay only a few days. They work a number of hours which is much greater than the number of hours the regular workers have been working. These exemplary workers are then moved to some other place and are never again seen in the place which they have just left, but those in charge of checking the work always present them as an example and the goal to be reached, pointing out to the workers that "those comrades" have gone to enjoy a well deserved vacation at some tourist center at Government expense.

 who is acquainted with many pro and anti-CASTRO activities and who maintains contact with numerous Cuban news media, advised on January 4, 1967, that "Granma", self described as the official organ of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of Cuba (CPC), had published an article on December 21, 1966, stating that the workers at the Ministry of Communications celebrated the sixth anniversary of the founding of the National Liberation Front of South Viet Nam at a meeting presided over by a member of the Central Committee of the CPC and Minister of Communications, Major JESUS MONTANE OROPESA.

The workers at the National Institute of Hydraulic Resources also met to commemorate the sixth anniversary

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington, D.C.

Dear Sir:

Before Castro took over Cuba [REDACTED] and I had an employee by the name of [REDACTED] and during this past summer his grandson visited me as he was a refugee from Havana. He was leaving for New York city and stated he would return and spend some time with me but has not returned.

b7C

He conveyed to me many things that are happening in Cuba, chiefly many, many communists have infiltrated around U. S. A. having brought here on Pan America paid for by the American government. He also stated Castro still has many missiles in caves near Santiago de Cuba.

He also stated he has trained hundreds of rebel troops in Moutansa Cubo all of which has been sent to Peru, Brazil and Venezuela, the majority shifted to Caracus via Mexico.

Now, Mr. Hoover, Washington has agreed to give the American public the opportunity to secure passports to Cuba where they will use American money in the large hotels to gamble, visit cock fights, etc. This will give Castro the opportunity to increase his economy. This practice on our part does not make sense to me being a taxpayer.

All of the statements in this letter are true. My only interest in writing you this letter is to protect whatever interest we still have in Cuba as in my opinion, Cuba is the paradise of the Antillas.

Respectfully,

REC-72

11 MAR 2 1967

LATIN-AMERICAN

59 MAR 1 1967

February 18, 1967

FRIVOLITY OF A CUBAN OFFICIAL

A story had been circulated concerning a personal adventure of Raul Castro, who heads the Ministry of the Armed Forces in Cuba and is also Vice-Minister of that Latin-communist isle.

A few months ago soldiers from the Armed Forces visited the Department of Mockups in Havana, where miniatures are made to scale of buildings in Cuba. These previous military gentlemen ordered models of the Hotel Havana Hilton, the Capitol, City Hall, and police headquarters in Havana. When asked by the department for details pertaining to this unusual request, the soldiers professed ignorance of this vital data although insisting their request was urgent.

Artists of the department rushed to the Archives and libraries and found that plans of most of the old buildings in Cuba had been destroyed by the Castro revolutionaries. The soldiers reappeared after two weeks and were visibly shaken when informed the models were not yet ready. Personnel of the mockup department who were not yet convinced of what they were to do, insisted that they had to know to what scale the models were to be made. The soldiers left and, ever persistent, returned with a small toy car stating the scale of the model buildings should be in proportion to the car.

When the department took the required measurements, it developed that a mockup, for instance, of the Havana Hilton Hotel, when scaled in proportion to the toy car, would be over ten feet high and would not pass through any normal door. The soldiers reappeared a third time, confronted with a steadily mounting tension in the mockup department. At this particular point, the department was informed that the scale was not critical since what was really desired were miniatures of famous Cuban buildings to be used by Raul Castro's young sons. It was explained in all candor that the boys had obtained new toy cars and wanted a miniature city in which to play with them.

Frivolity of a Cuban Official

The reaction of the mockup department's extremely loyal chief was striking. He screamed, tore at his hair, and before the entire department swore he was in complete inconformity with the Castro government.

One may conceive of a Latin dictator such as Batista ordering a palace carpenter to saw a miniature city out of plywood, but the actions of a communist leader in tying up an entire government department for an extended period have to be incongruous. Perhaps frivolity is a feature of communist thinking when the communist happens to be a Castro.

RE: FOREIGN POLITICAL MATTERS - CUBA

CUBAN PROPAGANDA ACTIVITIES IN
THE UNITED STATES
INTERNAL SECURITY - CUBA

On February 17, 1967, [REDACTED], an individual who is acquainted with certain phases of both pro- and anti-Fidel Castro activities in Cuba and the United States, reported the following newscast had been announced on February 16, 1967, by Radio Station CMQ, Havana, Cuba:

Two powerful radio transmitters were inaugurated on February 16, 1967. One was a 150,000-watt transmitting station located in San German, Oriente, Cuba, which would be used by the National Chain of Radio Rebelde, and the other a 50,000-watt station located in Cacocum, Oriente, Cuba, which would serve the National Chain of Radio Progreso. These stations, according to the broadcast, will be powerful enough to reach the entire Caribbean area, including Puerto Rico, Central America and some portions of both North and South America, specifically Florida, Colombia and Venezuela.

The Havana news reporter stated the San German transmitter manufactured in Czechoslovakia was three times as powerful as any set up thus far in Cuba. He added this station was completely set up by Cuban technicians. At the installation and inauguration of these stations were Enrique Bradag, Representative of the Tekla Technical Industries of Czechoslovakia; Frantisek Vondrasek, Representative of the Department of Commerce of Czechoslovakia; Jiury Kubischek, Czechoslovakian engineer and Commercial Director of the Cubos Industries; and Mirtha Muniz, in charge of programing and public relations for the Cuban Radio Institute.

RE: FOREIGN POLITICAL MATTERS - CUBA

CUBAN PROPAGANDA ACTIVITIES IN THE UNITED STATES

Mirtha Muniz stated the Communist Government of Cuba planned to increase the potential wattage for the National Radio Chain in Cuba to 513,000 watts. This will enable everyone in the Island of Cuba to listen to radio programs broadcast on long-wave length stations.

 also advised the announcer indicated this would enable the Communist Government of Cuba to exploit their propaganda throughout the entire Caribbean area and be a follow-up for those individuals who had recently attended various conferences such as the Tri-Continental Conference and the Latin American Students Conference held in Havana during 1966. Further, this will enable the Cuban Government to continue its anti-U. S. propaganda throughout this portion of the Western Hemisphere.

FOREIGN POLITICAL MATTERS - CUBA

[REDACTED]

When questioned as to why there are not more defections among employees and officials of the Cuban Ministry of Foreign Relations, [REDACTED] advised that there are not many defections because these people are well paid and live well abroad. They reside in large homes and earn high salaries when they return to Cuba. Therefore, since they led a good life abroad and are given preferential treatment upon their return to Cuba, they are very much afraid of losing their relatively advantageous positions. b7C

[REDACTED] he was not privileged to know of any of the big problems of the Cuban Ministry of Foreign Relations. However, he recalled that Cuba had a grave problem in January, 1965, when FIDEL CASTRO and MAO Tse-tung, head of the Chinese Government, fought over the rice which China failed to deliver to Cuba, according to CASTRO. At that time a number of Chinese assigned to Cuba left Cuba and took with them large boxes of silver and porcelain. These were exceptionally large amounts of silver and porcelain. For a time they were prohibited from taking silver and porcelain with them to China, but later they were given permission to take it all with them. b7C

[REDACTED]

OTHER PUBLICATIONS CUT DOWN

[REDACTED] stated there are only three newspapers published in Cuba at the present time. One of these is JUVENTUD REBELDE (Rebel Youth), which is published in a shop at Prado and Teniente Rey Streets, where the famous DIARIO DE LA MARINA used to be published. EL MUNDO is still in the old building at Calle Virtudes #357. The other newspaper is GRANMA, which is published in the shop of the Magazine BOHEMIA at Avenida de la Independencia and San Pedro in the El Cerro Section of Havana.

[REDACTED] stated the above is in sharp contrast to formerly some 22 newspapers which were published in Havana and it has been recommended that GRANMA suspend publication one day per week, even though it is self-described as the official organ of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of Cuba.

The newspapers JUVENTUD REBELDE and EL MUNDO publish practically the same news and with rare exceptions, most of it appears in GRANMA. All the money and property left in Cuba by the former owners of EL MUNDO, is used to draw on and support the publication of JUVENTUD REBELDE.

EL MUNDO has installed radio apparatus and teletypes from which they receive cables from abroad.

In order to get into the working area where these are received, authorization in writing from the Director of EL MUNDO has to be obtained.

When cables arrive from abroad, they are sent to the Director for his approval and none are published without his authorization. Sources within the newspaper itself state that on many occasions the cables are completely changed and the news published as if it had been received that way. On any questionable matter involving high policy, the Director has to consult with someone in the Ministry of Interior, which controls all police and security affairs, before he can publish an article received from abroad.

WORKERS ATTITUDE

When newspaper workers are summoned to public assemblies during non-working hours, they do not go.
Therefore, most Workers Assemblies are called during working hours. Mistakes which employees have made in their work are aired publicly at these Assemblies, where penalties are also announced and either consist of contribution of money to a certain project or a certain number of days without pay. If the mistake is regarded as important, a delegate of the revolutionary Confederation of Workers (CTC) arrives. He is a member of the Communist Party and he takes note of the charge or offense and asks for the punishment. When the mistake made involves something serious and raises a question of loyalty, the Cuban Department of State Security (DSE) agents who work for the newspaper intervene in the matter and the culprit is taken to G-2 offices for further interrogation and possible punishment. Usually other fellow-workers do not know of this action but only note that the fellow-worker has not reappeared at his job.

111

This condition is conducive to the production of low moral, and a state of tension and anxiety among the workers.

1) [REDACTED] noted that [REDACTED]

It has been noted that the offices of EL MUNDO are the ones most frequently visited by FIDEL CASTRO and it is said he does this because there are still many employees working on that daily who used to know CASTRO when he came to see the old Directors, asking them to publish some article which would be favorable to his rebel cause.

On March 17, 1967, an informant advised that he learned the following:

[REDACTED]

b7C
b7D

The Soviet Union is "organizing" maritime and aerial groups (not further described) in Cuba with subversive intentions for other Latin American countries. In addition to this activity the informant also learned that there are forty-three training camps for guerrillas in Cuba with Russian, "Spanish," Cuban and Viet Cong instructors. It is estimated, according to the informant, that 10,000 Latin American guerrillas are trained every year at these camps. (S)(u)

While in Rio de Janeiro the informant also learned that there is a widespread rumor that Ernesto "Che" Guevara, Cuban Minister of Industry is in Brazil. It is said, according to the informant, that Guevara entered Brazil as a Dominican priest under the name of Fray Juan dos Santos or Brother Antonio de Avila. It is alleged that he was last seen in Recife and may now be in Pernambuco, Brazil, or some other locale in the northeast area of the country.

Background of Source

On February 6, 1967, NELLIE BEATRICE TRUCKER REDIKER, 1109 Chipola Road, Duplex B, Fort Pierce, Florida, advised she is 63 years of age, having been born at Northumberland, England, June 13, 1903. She is a naturalized citizen of the United States. She was a resident of Cuba from 1938 until June 16, 1966. She arrived in the United States with a Swiss Protection Passport on June 18, 1966.

She married HARRY REDIKER in June, 1938, and immediately moved to Havana, Cuba. She divorced her husband in 1944, but continued to reside in Cuba. She was self-employed from about 1944 until 1959 as a furniture designer specializing in Chinese modern-type furniture. She resided at 32 Calle Real in Cojimar, Cuba, a suburb on the outskirts of Havana.

When she first went to Cuba in 1938, she decided not to become "an ugly American", but to rather adopt the Cuban way of life as her own. She learned the language, made firm friends among the Cuban, as well as the American, sections of the community, and built for herself a well-deserved reputation for being a "sympatico American". She always made it a policy to disassociate herself from Cuban political matters, and always maintained the attitude that the political problems of Cuba were for the Cuban people to solve. She steadfastly refused to buy bonds offered her by pro and anti-CASTRO groups, or even to offer a political opinion except when with old, trusted friends.

Mrs. REDIKER said she had made a comfortable living designing custom furniture prior to the advent of CASTRO in Cuba. During this period she frequently commuted to the United States, and once almost obtained a job with a furniture company in San Francisco. However, she learned that there was no shortage of talent among furniture designers in the United States, and that she was better off in Cuba where she had developed her business and clients. She also operated out of her home there which, little by little, she built into a very comfortable abode.

When CASTRO came to power, the people in Cuba who constituted the market for her services left in droves, and with the Government's take-over of all of the property of every sort in Cuba, there was no market for her services. She was approached by a number of her friends who planned to leave Cuba for the United States, who begged her to teach them English. Because of the great demand, she opened her home to private students and became an English teacher. She was contacted several times by Government officials and American friends and encouraged to work for the Cuban Government teaching English in Cuban schools, but she declined.

Confiscation of Property of Emigrants

Mrs. REDIKER said she loved Cuba prior to CASTRO's take-over, and thought it a paradise on earth. Her home is valued at $72,000.00. She built it and furnished it during her 28 years in Cuba. Prior to leaving Cuba, however, she was required to deed the house to the state, as well as all of its furnishings and her personal property. She was permitted to depart Cuba with only the dress she was wearing, and the lining of her purse. She was not permitted to take with her any money. Even the leather of her purse was confiscated at the airport prior to her departure. When she landed in Mexico City on June 17, 1966, she was completely penniless, and discovered that she had to wait there until the next day before she could connect with a flight to the United States. Had it not been for the generosity of Pan American Airways personnel, she would have gone hungry and been without a hotel room there.

After arriving in the United States, she visited friends in Miami, and relatives in Detroit, Michigan, then secured a job in Fort Pierce, Florida, as a furniture saleswoman and decorator through the Merchandise Mart in Chicago. She presently works for Grant Furniture Company in Fort Pierce. She has only one small cot to sleep on, two cheap wicker chairs for her furniture, and several borrowed pots and pans. Her refrigerator and stove are furnished with the apartments.

She still has a number of friends in Cuba whom she helps financially out of her pitifully small salary. She feels obligated to send her friends money and necessities and to aid them in leaving Cuba rather than to waste the money on furniture and personal property for herself, and will continue to deny herself luxuries or even necessities so long as she is able to assist her friends to survive. She has no relatives in Cuba, but does have many friends who are as dear to her as any relative could be.

She said she would dearly love to return to the Cuba she knew before CASTRO, but will never voluntarily return in the present situation. She considers herself "one of the lucky ones" to have been able to leave Cuba. She realizes that she has but few years left to her to work, and hopes she will be able to at least save sufficient money to provide for her own burial. Except for this sum, she feels she must use whatever money she can make to assist her friends in Cuba by whatever small contribution she can make.

Protection of CASTRO's Residence

As indicated previously, Mrs. REDIKER said her home was at 32 Calle Real, Cojimar, Havana. This is directly across the street from the house used by FIDEL CASTRO, Cuban Premier, as his main home. He has several other homes in Cuba which he uses, and seldom dares spend the night in any one house several nights in a row for fear of his safety. He acquired the above-mentioned house several years ago. The house was previously owned by the Cuban Ambassador to Spain, who was killed with his entire family in an automobile accident. He was leaving Spain to return to Cuba shortly after CASTRO became the Premier of Cuba when the accident occurred.

After CASTRO acquired the house, he built a huge fence around the property, stationed vicious German police guard dogs inside the fence, and built barracks for his personal bodyguards.

Also, for three years, pneumatic air hammers and drills could be heard working underground, night and day, enlarging and adding to the natural tunnels that honeycomb the area. These tunnels are said to provide an underground hideout for CASTRO, protection from aerial bombs, and shelter for his military equipment. Mrs. REDIKER said she personally counted 40 tanks rumbling by her house late one night and watched their headlights disappear into one of the tunnels. There were numerous other times that tanks and military trucks passed her home and disappeared into the mountainsides. Based upon her observations, she is certain that there is a huge military complex underground in the vicinity of her former home.

Castro's Physical Condition

Mrs. REDIKER said it is common knowledge that CASTRO is an alcoholic, and drinks more than a quart of whiskey each day. It is also widely rumored that CASTRO is mentally ill, and taking "shock treatments" on a regular basis. She said she had seen CASTRO numerous times at close range prior to her departure from Cuba, and he appeared to be a very sick man. She commented that her sightings of CASTRO had always been when he was driven home in his car, and turned into the driveway of his home directly across from her home. He was always heavily guarded, and her glimpses of CASTRO were fleeting ones.

Economic Conditions, Scarcity of Food and Doctors

Mrs. REDIKER said she has two small mongrel dogs which she shipped from Cuba prior to her departure. The shipment, via Iberia Airlines through Spain, cost $450.00 per dog. Had she chosen to leave the dogs in Cuba, they would have been fed live to the animals at the Park Zoological in Havana - a fate she could not bear to contemplate.

She also confided that the two dogs had been her salvation in Cuba. She said one dog she previously owned had been killed by one of the Army trucks that passed her home. She had cried so, and made such a scene over the death of the little dog that CASTRO's soldiers took compassion on her and brought her another little dog to replace the one that was killed. When she protested to them that she had no food to feed the dog, the soldiers told her not to worry; that they would feed the dogs scraps from their mess. Each week thereafter the cooks for the soldiers would bring her a large kettle full of table scraps, and would always leave a large portion of meat in the kettle for her. She also ate many of the scraps intended for her dogs, since this was the only way she could obtain sufficient food.

She commented that the food ration stamps issued her by the Government permitted her to purchase only about $8.00 worth of food weekly. When it is considered that a single fish sold for $35.00 on the black market, and a leg of lamb brought $95, the $8 allowance did not go far. Also, she had become very close friends with a doctor in her neighborhood, who was permitted to carry on a private practice in addition to his required work in a Government clinic. He was permitted to do so because doctors are almost non-existent in Cuba today, and her friend is a good doctor. His earnings from his private practice permitted him to occasionally buy food on the black market, and she had always been invited to partake of the bounty when the doctor had been able to arrange an illegal meal.

Also, although far less frequently, her male neighbors would sometimes be able to locate and "stake out" a beef or lamb in the area. Then several would go on a raid late at night, butcher the beef or lamb on the spot, and return with it. On such occasions, the entire neighborhood enjoyed a feast, for it was important that the meat be eaten quickly and the evidence destroyed. She commented that her neighbors were not common criminals, but rather highly respected professional men, such as her doctor friend. They had been reduced to such activities, because famine now prevails in Cuba for the common man. The soldiers are well fed, but rebel against the system when they go home to see their families, who are starving.

Russians Are the "Fat Cats"

The truly "fat cats" in Cuba at the present time are the Russians, and they are in evidence everywhere. They enjoy the most luxurious of the mansions of millionaire property owners who have fled Cuba, the finest food available, and are usually the only participants in the night life of Cuba. Most of the splendid night clubs and casinos that made Havana world renown are no longer in existence. The night clubs now are usually dimly lit, "speakeasy" type establishments hidden on dark streets in the poorer parts of the city. The Russians seem to prefer this type night club, and they are permitted to exist solely for the pleasure of the Russian soldiers and technicians. Cuba is also well populated with Chinese representatives and soldiers, but the Russians are the most prevalent and the most despised by the people.

Indoctrination of Cuban Youth

CASTRO, today, is aiming his programs and propaganda at the youth of Cuba, which he openly acknowledges in his many marathon television speeches. He also seems determined to break up the family group. He has set up "infantile centers" everywhere, and encourages mothers to bring their children to the centers during the day and join their husbands in the fields or at work. He repeatedly cautions Cubans to forego marriage, yet urges the women to bear children for the state. Consequently, it is a common sight to see teenage girls, often as young as 12 years of age, walking the streets in the late stages of pregnancy.

Shortly before she departed Cuba, CASTRO made it mandatory that all the youths of the nation attend his "country schools". These schools are established in the country, away from the homes of the boys and girls, and they are required to spend at least six months out of each year at the school. The purpose of the schools is to indoctrinate every youth ten years of age and over in communism. This is now compulsory. Prior to this, youths eight years of age and under ten years of age were urged to become "Pioneers." This they do by joining Government-sponsored "Pioneer" youth groups, where the boys play baseball and the girls attend ballet classes. Here again the children are subjected to communist indoctrination. Many families rebel against permitting their children to join such groups, but must find excuses to give them, rather than declare their opposition. To admit openly that they oppose such schools would subject them to arrest, so they insist their children are too young or are needed at home for some fictitious function. The parents know they will lose control over their children if they are permitted to join the "Pioneer" groups, and wish to delay the inevitable for as long as possible.

The programs are very successful. It is a common occurrence for a son or daughter to report his parents as enemies of the state and have them arrested. Also, it is common to go to the marketplace and watch teenagers vie with one another to see who can first report a disgruntled patron who has complained about the shortage of food or the high prices as an enemy of the state. Such arrests are made hourly of each day of the week, and she has always seen at least one such arrest every time she has gone to the market. Consequently, she avoided the market as much as she possibly could.

RE: FOREIGN POLITICAL MATTERS - CUBA

Defected Americans

She commented that all of the Americans who teach in Cuban schools are thoroughly despicable, and have "sold their birthright for a mess of pottage." They have adopted CASTRO's systems, and defend him and his programs with vigor. They excuse the miserable conditions existing in Cuba as being temporary, and praise the communist system as holding forth opportunities for future greatness. Without exception, they are hated by their American and Cuban contemporaries in Cuba who remain loyal to democratic principles and fervently hope for a return to the Cuba of old.

Few Underground Factions Exist

There are still some few underground factions in Cuba opposing CASTRO, but these groups are mainly composed of envious rebels who seek to replace CASTRO for personal grandeur and power, rather than from altruistic or humanitarian motives. They are recognized by the people for what they are.

CASTRO Can Put Down Any Internal Rebellion

Although many of the Cuban people continue to pray for U.S. intervention in the Cuban situation, and realize this is the only hope they have of overcoming their dilemma, the majority have despaired of any hope of rescue. CASTRO has thoroughly indoctrinated the youth of the country into the ways of communism and the hatred for America, and has built a powerful militia to repel any invasion force. He has stockpiled weapons in all Government buildings, including hospitals, schools, clinics, etc. In each building one trusted worker has custody of the key to the munitions room, and has the duty of arming all other employees of the institution in the event of an invasion or rebellion. She commented that the daughter of one of her oldest and most trustworthy friends had such a custodial duty, and is now an ardent disciple of CASTRO, much to the horror and shame of her parents.

Mrs. REDIKER said she now believes CASTRO can put down any internal rebellion, and repel all but a major invasion. He is completely supported by the younger generation, and he had rendered the middle-aged and elderly completely ineffectual by his programs of harassment, starvation and humiliation.

On April 6, 1967, a source advised she in turn was recently advised by an individual, who learned from relatives in the underground in Cuba, as follows:

USSR CUBA
Raul Castro, Cuban Defense Minister, was involved in an argument with Prime Minister Fidel Castro and Fidel shot Raul in the face. Raul has been in the Soviet Union for the past three months recuperating. The Union of Soviet Socialist Republics regards Fidel Castro as a psychopath and has arranged to have him assassinated. It plans to have a puppet replace Fidel by means of a so-called free election and stress that this person was a popular choice of the people of Cuba as evidenced by his selection in a free election. Fidel has heard of the plans for his assassination and is seeking to arrange a successful escape from Cuba with no harm befalling him. Cuba at present is seething with a large number of people who want a revolution there.

FOREIGN POLITICAL MATTERS - CU
INTERNAL SECURITY - CU

On April 12, 1967 a confidential informant who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that he has heard from numerous sources inside Cuba that about three or four months ago, Raul Castro, the Defense Minister of Cuba, and other high-ranking officials of the Cuban Government, pointed out to Fidel Castro, the Prime Minister of Cuba, that since China has stopped shipping rice to Cuba, the Cubans are not receiving their daily quota of rice, which is a staple of their diet. Raul Castro and the other officials prevailed upon Fidel Castro to send them to Russia, in order to convince the Russian officials to furnish more rice to Cuba. While in Russia, this Cuban delegation also planned to request more assistance in other goods from Russia to Cuba.

The confidential source advised that Raul Castro has been in Russia for approximately one and a half months.

The confidential source noted that it is highly unlikely that Fidel Castro shot and wounded his brother, Raul, pointing out that should Fidel Castro want to kill his brother he would not hesitate to do so and would not merely wound him.

DECLASSIFIED BY 60210/CE/ER
ON 8/27/01

On April 6, 1967, a source advised that information was received from an individual who had obtained information from relatives in the underground in Cuba, to the effect that Raul Castro, Cuban Defense Minister, was involved in an argument with Prime Minister Fidel Castro, and Fidel shot Raul in the face. It was reported that Raul Castro had been in the Soviet Union for the past three months recuperating. It was further reported that the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics (USSR) regards Fidel Castro as a psychopath, and has arranged to have him assassinated.

This source reported that the plans call for replacing Fidel Castro with a puppet, by means of a so called free election, and stresses that the person elected would be by popular choice of the people of Cuba. Fidel Castro is alleged to have heard of the plans for his assassination, and is seeking to arrange a successful escape from Cuba, with no harm befalling him.

Sources of the New York Office (NYO) of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), who have knowledge of some anti-Castro activity, advised that they had no information which would confirm the above.

[REDACTED] b7C
[REDACTED] who is close to many anti-Castro organizations, advised that he had no information concerning the shooting of Raul Castro, by his brother, Fidel, or any information confirming the pbt to assassinate Fidel Castro, on the part of the Soviet Union.

Information included in recent Department of Defense Intelligence Bulletin indicates that a Costa Rican Castro sympathizer is reportedly en route to Havana to negotiate an air lift of 329 Cubans from Cuba to Costa Rica. Details set forth for information.

the Partido Socialista, a political front party for the Costa Rican Communist Party, reportedly is engaged in another effort to transport disaffected Cubans to Costa Rica. This is the second effort by individuals connected with the Communist Party of Costa Rica to accomplish the transfer of Cubans to Costa Rica. In December, 1966, a similar effort failed when Fidel Castro canceled plans to allow Cubans to leave Cuba for Costa Rica due to charges by a Costa Rican Government official that Havana was circulating counterfeit money in Costa Rica.

Information indicates [REDACTED] apparently has at least Costa Rican Government approval for his mission since he is in possession of an official Costa Rican passport. It is believed he and possibly some Costa Rican communist officials will receive a percentage of the fares that will be charged the emigres.

Re: FOREIGN POLITICAL MATTERS - CUBA

BACKGROUND OF SOURCE

The following information was furnished by [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

b7C

GENERAL CONDITIONS IN LA CABANA PRISON

[REDACTED]
from La Cabana Prison [REDACTED] there were about 750 to 800 ordinary prisoners and about 1,600 to 1,700 political prisoners. About half of the political prisoners continued to oppose the Castro regime in spite of their imprisonment and as a result they lived under very poor circumstances, being given insufficient food of poor quality and no medical care. The other half of the political prisoners were in a "rehabilitation program" after having agreed to accept the Castro regime.

Re: FOREIGN POLITICAL MATTERS - CUBA

 stated that many of the prisoners engaged in the rehabilitation program were only pretending to accept the communist way of life because they had discovered that this was the only way to get out of the prison. Those in the rehabilitation program were assigned jobs in the maintenance shops of the prison and some were even taken out of the prison on a daily basis for the purpose of working in nearby sugarcane fields. They were required to attend daily political orientation and indoctrination lectures during the evening hours. Usually they were released from the prison after several months in the rehabilitation program while those who refused the program were held indefinitely. b7C

In October, and November, 1966, rumors were widespread in the prison that the Government of Cuba had decided to permit all political prisoners to leave the Island.

The custodial forces consisted of about 250 civilian guards, augmented from time to time by the personnel on nearby military training camp where approximately two thousand troops were stationed at all times.

Re: FOREIGN POLITICAL MATTERS - CUBA
(OPERATIONS OF "EL MUNDO")

"El Mundo" is a daily afternoon newspaper published in Havana, Cuba, which is under the complete control and direction of the Cuban government.

On August 17, 1967, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] was contacted at his residence [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] and he furnished the following information:

[REDACTED]
"El Mundo" was published at 257 Virtudes in Havana and employed 230 workers. [REDACTED]

The presses used by the newspaper were in good condition. Most of the spare parts were manufactured in the USSR and Red China but were often in short supply. The lack of an adequate supply of paper often necessitated a reduction in the size of the newspaper.

The newspaper had a daily circulation of over 120,000. Only news items approved by the government of Cuba were allowed to be printed.

[REDACTED] advised that all of this information applied to the period prior to December 21, 1965, and that he had no additional information about the operations of the newspaper "El Mundo".

RE: FOREIGN POLITICAL MATTERS - CUBA

On October 5, 1967, [REDACTED] an individual who monitors Cuban radio broadcasts, advised the 19th meeting of the United Nations World Health Organization had recently been held in Trinidad, West Indies. He stated this announcement was broadcast over Radio Havana, Cuba, and referred to the Cuban delegation's having been in attendance. The Cuban delegation was composed of the following physicians:

WBA
W.I.

{ [REDACTED] CP members
[REDACTED] (phonetic)

The broadcast related that during the recent session, [REDACTED] accused the United States of taking advantage of the Alliance for Progress to maintain political control over the Pan American Health Office. Also, all three physicians in the Cuban delegation left the conference room when [REDACTED] representative of the Organization of American States, began to speak.

WBA W.I.

[REDACTED]

On October 5, 1967, [REDACTED] advised that an American medical physician who attended the 19th meeting of the United Nations World Health Organization commented he felt very strongly that the Cuban delegation had utilized this meeting to propagandize the Communist Government of Cuba. He stated it was a four-day convention and the Cuban delegation stayed at the Hilton Hotel in Trinidad. During the meeting,

[REDACTED] representative of Cuba, offered anyone who had made fairly good marks in school a scholarship in various and sundry courses in Cuba. He offered the Trinidadians and Jamaicans an opportunity to visit Cuba and observe the considerable progress which had been made in Cuba in relation to agriculture and control of diseases in this field. b1c

[REDACTED] believed this was an excellent propaganda move on the part of FIDEL CASTRO and the Communist Government of Cuba, particularly in the area of Trinidad and Jamaica, where there is increasing friction between the Negroes and the Indian community. [REDACTED] stated there were several representatives from the United States at this meeting who did not approve of permitting the Cubans to utilize this meeting for propaganda purposes and planned to so protest to the National Organization. b2 b7D

Cuba Continues to Publicize STOKELY CARMICHAEL

[REDACTED] advised on November 14, 1967, that the publicity given STOKELY CARMICHAEL in Havana while he attended the Conference of Latin-American Solidarity Organization (LASO) continues to follow CARMICHAEL on his visits to other countries. This publicity is issued him by the Cuban news agency Prensa Latina. b2 b7D

[REDACTED] noted that on October 7, 1967, El Mundo, a daily afternoon newspaper published in Havana under the direction of the Cuban Government, stated that American Negro leader STOKELY CARMICHAEL complained that he was being pressured and threatened by officials of the American Embassy in Guinea.

CARMICHAEL was quoted as stating that this was the second time the American Government "has tried to interfere with my right to travel in peace."

[REDACTED] stated that Radio Progreso, a radio station in Havana, Cuba, gave a lengthy broadcast on October 13, 1967, which was allegedly the results of an exclusive interview with CARMICHAEL at Conarky, Guinea, West Africa, where he was a guest of honor at the Eighth Congress of the Democratic Party of Guinea. CARMICHAEL lauded the Vietnam people, and was very critical of the United States, which he described as one of the largest countries in the world, bombing one of the smallest, with high explosives and napalm. CARMICHAEL was critical of President JOHNSON, stating that he had practically told the police to use their nightsticks and guns to attack the Negroes in the streets when they cause problems. He declared it was not the Negroes who cause the problems, but the corrupt structure in the United States which enslaves the Afro-Americans and other nations of the world.

Re: FOREIGN POLITICAL MATTERS - CUBA

Puerto Rican Matters

[REDACTED] stated Cuban publicity and propaganda outlets occupy a great deal of their time giving favorable publicity to Puerto Rican radicals. b2 b7D

On October 30, 1967, [REDACTED] stated that El Mundo of October 21, 1967, quoted CARLOS PADILLA, described as head of the mission in Cuba for the Movement for Puerto Rican Independence (MPRI), as stating that the CIA and other espionage groups of the imperialists are trying to divide and confuse the people. PADILLA stated that the MPRI is based on mass action, and the members are told that "they will win only through battle." PADILLA declared that 40,000 Cuban exiles are now in Puerto Rico, and have brought with them the vices, scorn for work, drug addiction, and other corruptive devices. He declared Puerto Rico is surrounded by 13 military bases, two of which are atomic bases, and he was quoted further as stating that 40,000 Puerto Ricans travel to and from the United States; but Puerto Rico is the "Achilles heel" of the imperialists.

On October 27, 1967, El Mundo gave considerable space and publicity to persons they described as "Puerto Rican heroines." One photograph was described as being that of the national heroines of the battles of 1950 - 1954, and from left to right, were described as JUANITA OJEDA, who served three years in prison under the "gag law" of 1950; BLANCA CANALES, who organized and directed the taking of Jayuya; ISABEL ROSADO, who fought beside ALBIZU CAMPOS in 1954, spent 11 years in prison, and was released in 1965; CARMEN MARIA PEREZ, who fought it out with the police for two days in 1950, and has spent a total of 14 years in prison.

Cuba Invited to Participate in Japanese World's Fair

[REDACTED] advised on November 1, 1967, that Cuba has been invited officially to participate in the World's Fair to be held in Osaka, Japan, March 15 to September 23, 1970. The theme of the fair is to be "Progress and Harmony Among People." b2 b7D

Re: FOREIGN POLITICAL MATTERS - CUBA

Cuban - Russian Discord

[redacted] stated on November 3, 1967, that El Mundo of November 28, 1967, had reprinted a Prensa Latina article, stating that the Soviet Union and Rumania fully backed Cuba's position that the United States has refused to stop its aggressive action against Cuba, and has refused to remove its base at Guantanamo.

[redacted] stated that despite such isolated quotes of Cuban and Russian harmony, it is a fact that relations are definitely not as good between Cuba and the Soviet Union as they once were. He stated these differences could be traced to early 1965, when ERNESTO "CHE" GUEVARA, then Minister of Industry of Cuba, spoke at Algiers and in other Northern African countries, and harshly criticized the Soviet Union. Shortly thereafter, GUEVARA disappeared, and did not reappear until he was killed with Bolivian guerrillas in Bolivia.

[redacted] stated that news agencies, including United States news agencies, have indicated that the Russians are having difficulties with Cuba. It is noted that the Miami Herald on November 8, 1967, pointed out that the split between Havana and Moscow was dramatized when the Russians announced that Cuban President OSVALDO DORTICOS was coming to their fiftieth anniversary party, and CASTRO sent a minor delegate. The minor delegate was met by two Russian non-entities, and then ignored. Delegates from Uruguay and Chile were called upon to speak, but the Russian delegate was not. The Herald pointed out that there had been an almost total collapse of CASTRO's relations with Peking.

[redacted] advised on November 15, 1967, that in view of the increasing publicity regarding the deteriorating relations between Russia and Cuba, [redacted]

[redacted] take on added significance. He recalled that in October,

The Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA) has received a radio report from the pilot of a private plane who claims he is being forced at gunpoint by an unidentified Russian to fly to Cuba. b7C

At 12:52 p.m., 11/20/67, [redacted] DIA, telephoned to report that the North American Air Defense Command had intercepted a radio message from the pilot of a "Piper Apache" owned by Crescent Air Ways, presumably of Florida. The pilot said that a Russian was holding a gun at his head and had ordered him to fly to Cuba. The plane left Hollywood, Florida, at 11:50 EST en route to Bimini, and the radio message was received at [redacted]. Two Air Force planes were "scrambled" and made contact with the "Piper Apache" at 12:22 p.m., at which time it was 25 miles southeast of Miami headed in the direction of Cuba. The two Air Force planes had asked for instructions as to the action they should take. [redacted] said he was furnishing the above, which was the sum total of the information presently available, to the Bureau for information and would furnish us further data as it was received. b7C

DATE 12-21-04 BY 60264UCBA/604

The following information was furnished on January 9, 1968, by [REDACTED]

Background of [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] stated he was in favor of the CASTRO regime and against FULGENCIO BATISTA, former Cuban President and dictator, but as early as 1957, his father differed with him, and was against CASTRO.

He stated during this latter period, he became more and more disenchanted with the CASTRO regime. He felt that [REDACTED] did more to turn him against the CASTRO regime.

than any other single event. He stated Prague impressed him as a city of the dead. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] He stated he saw no young people there, no evidence of smiles or happiness, a scarcity of everything, and atrocious prices on all items that were available. He stated that increased scarcity, soaring prices, and the same lack of happiness and contentment were becoming more and more evident in Cuba. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] he decided that if that city were an example of what Communism could do for a country after more than twenty years, he could see no hope for Cuba under the rule of FIDEL CASTRO.

Defeat of FIDEL CASTRO

[REDACTED] stated that in late 1965, when FIDEL CASTRO announced to the world on television that everyone who desired to leave Cuba could leave, that in fact he would be happy to see them go, [REDACTED] relied on that statement and applied for permission to leave Cuba. [REDACTED]

b7C
b7D

Cuban Subversive Activities Abroad

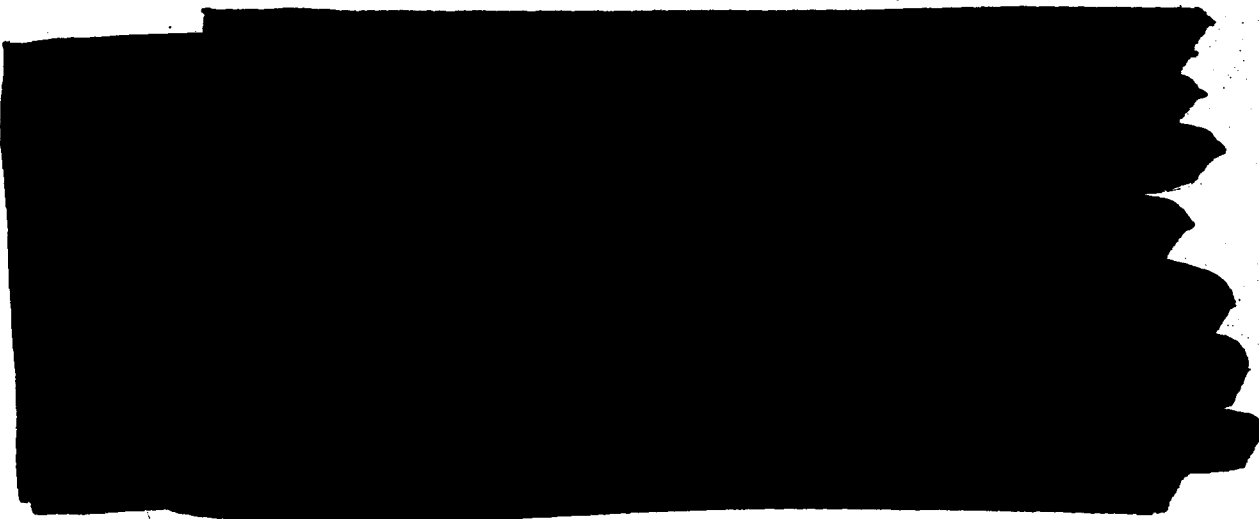

[REDACTED] are members of the Communist Party (CP) of Cuba, but there are a few who are not, and there are numerous other employees who are not members of the CP, nor even sympathetic to the CASTRO regime. Through these sources not affiliated with the CASTRO regime, [REDACTED] has kept himself informed of some of the CASTRO activities abroad, and has been able to personally observe some of the subversive activities carried out in Cuba, and no doubt aimed at the downfall of foreign governments through guerrilla warfare and subversion.

although the CASTRO Government has seized practically all of the property in that area. The houses range from cheap summer beach houses to very expensive beach homes and clubs. Most of the people owning property there were wealthy Cubans living and working in Havana, but spending weekends or summer vacations in their beach houses. Many of these wealthy Cubans were among the first to flee Cuba, and their properties were immediately seized by the CASTRO Government.

b7C
b7D

[REDACTED]

Further, in connection with the training of Latin-Americans in Cuba, [REDACTED] stated that there are obstacle courses for use by South Americans about one kilometer from the Jaimanitas Beach on the side nearest to Havana. He stated the obstacle courses included barricades and rope nets. He stated there is no attempt to conceal these obstacle courses, and the men using them are not Cubans.

Activities in Morocco - Algeria Area

[REDACTED] stated that in 1964, Cuba had been very active in the area of Algeria during the Morocco - Algeria conflict. He stated that he knew that a tank company in Managua, Havana Province, had been sent to the City of Matanzas. After being issued civilian clothes, they were moved to the Casa Blanca Naval Base in Havana. He stated that subsequently, and after a briefing from Major RAUL CASTRO, Vice Premier of Cuba, and then Minister of the Cuban Armed Forces, the men boarded a Cuban merchant ship carrying Soviet arms and Soviet T-34 tanks.

This vessel went to Algeria, and the troops were issued Algerian military uniforms. [REDACTED] stated the Cubans were on the outskirts of Algiers, and served as artillery and T-34 tank instructors for the Algerian military for at least forty-five days. [REDACTED] stated they were returned to Cuba by air.

[REDACTED] stated that in addition to the above, the CASTRO subversive forces had been active in the Congo in 1964.

and Humboldt 7 incident.

It will be recalled that on April 20, 1957, Cuban revolutionists (allegedly students) FRUCTUOSO RODRIGUEZ, JUAN PEDRO CARBO SERVIA, JOE WESTBROOK ROSALES, and JOSE MACHADO were killed by police while resisting arrest at Humboldt Street #7, Havana.

It subsequently developed that a then member of the Communist Youth of Cuba was an informant of the BATISTA police, who betrayed the presence of the young revolutionists.

Cubana Airlines Equipment

As of August, 1967, [REDACTED] stated the Cubana Aviation equipment is in poor condition. He stated the central offices are located on the corner of 23rd Street and Malecon Avenue in Havana, and the flight service operates from the Rancho Boyeros Airport, now known as the Jose Marti International Airport. There are about fifty pilots, and nineteen of these are qualified to fly the international routes. There are Czech crew members to assist, due to the scarcity of qualified Cubana pilots. b7c/D

One Bristol Britannia is leased to Czechoslovakia, for its weekly flights to Prague, and the other two are used for passenger service to Spain, Canada, and Mexico. One IL-18 is used on domestic flights to Oriente Province.

Only two of an original six AN-24's are operational.

There are six IL-14's which are still in operation, and two very old DC-3 aircraft are used for short internal flights in Cuba. In addition to the above, there is a DC-4 performing passenger service to Camaguey and Santiago de Cuba.

In addition to the above, there are five IL-14's assigned to the Cuban Revolutionary Air Force as military transports, but they are painted gray and are distinguishable from those operated by Cubana.

[REDACTED] stated there are a number of the Antonov ancient-appearing biplanes which are used as crop-dusters, but these are constantly breaking down, and there is an acute shortage of parts for all aircraft, including the military MIG-15, -19, and -21. b7c/D

General Internal Conditions

[REDACTED] stated he does not estimate that over 10% of the people in Cuba actually support FIDEL CASTRO. He stated, however, that the people are so completely dominated by fear, and the Cuban leaders are now so confident of their complete control that they do not even search baggage of the normal refugees departing from Cuba for the United States. He stated the houses have already been searched, and the property of departing refugees has all been inventoried. They are watched when they pack their bags, and they are driven to the airport, so that there is very little chance for them to take anything with them without the knowledge of the Cuban Government.

He stated the stories told by refugees arriving in the United States concerning scarcity of food and items of necessity are generally true. He stated there is no such thing as style in Cuba for men or women. He stated, for example, if anyone goes abroad, as the Cubana personnel do, and returns with miniskirts for the women or stove-pipe leg pants for the men, they are ridiculed and accused of being bourgeois.

With regard to extensive travel, he stated the Cuban youth go to Europe to drink, travel, and obtain whatever enjoyment they possibly can, and they learn practically nothing. He stated the Russians and the Czechs travel to Cuba because, frankly, they can live more comfortably and better, despite the shortages in Cuba, than they can in their homelands.

Re: FOREIGN POLITICAL MATTERS - CUBA

Cuban Radio Reports Explosion at the Post Office, Havana, Cuba, January 8, 1968

On January 9, 1968, [REDACTED] an individual acquainted with certain phases of both pro- and anti-FIDEL CASTRO activities in Cuba and the United States, furnished the following information:

He advised "Radio Progreso," Havana, announced an explosion had occurred at the Havana Post Office at 4:00 p.m., January 8, 1968. The broadcast reflected the bomb which caused the explosion apparently had been contained in one of ten pouches which had been sent from New York City to Cuba via Canada aboard the "S. S. Las Villas." According to the broadcast, the "S. S. Las Villas" arrived in Havana, Cuba, on January 3, 1968. The explosion reportedly took place as Cuban postal workers were removing packages from a truck.

[REDACTED] advised "Radio Progreso" is a Cuban radio station in Havana operating under the control and direction of the FIDEL CASTRO Communist Government of Cuba.

Cuban Newspaper Account of Explosion

On January 11, 1968, [REDACTED] furnished an article which appeared in "Granma," Havana newspaper, on January 9, 1968. "Granma" is self-described as the official organ of the Central Committee of the Communist Party (CP) of Cuba. This article reflected that five post office employees were injured, two seriously, when a bomb exploded in a mail sack which arrived in Cuba from the United States along with other mail. The explosion occurred about 4:00 p.m. on January 8, 1968, at the time of most activity in the parcel post section of the Ministry of Communications. Along with many packages containing letters and packages sent by people in the United States to their relatives in Cuba, there was one containing this bomb. The post office truck had made a routine pick-up at the Havana docks for boat mail dispatched in New York, U. S. A., aboard the Cuban ship "S. S. Las Villas," via Canada.

The article explained that when Cuban postal employee JUAN ~~PABLO~~ BERNAL was about to take a package handed to him by his co-worker, LUCAS OVIEDO, from the mail truck which was parked in the patio at the Ministry of Communications, the package exploded. Metal fragments were scattered over several meters, injuring BERNAL and OVIEDO, as well as others who were nearby. Reportedly, there were approximately twenty to twenty-five postal workers in the area loading or unloading packages, because they were also working on "national mail." Further, there were other vehicles parked in this area.

The article continued that had the explosion occurred within the building where the pouch was about to be taken along with others by BERNAL, dozens of employees would have been killed, because many of them, including a number of women, were working in that particular area, according to ROBERTO PANTOJA TAMAYO, head of the Parcel Post Section of the Ministry of Communications of the Government of Cuba. He explained only ten meters from the site of the explosion were sorting tables where a group of workers was sorting packages received; however, fortunately, no one was injured in this locality, in spite of the fact that doors and windows in this area were shattered.

Cuban Allegation - Explosion Caused by Mail from the United States

PANTOJA TAMAYO and TEOGENES ~~PADRON~~ VICENS, head of the shift in the Parcel Post Section, explained they could easily identify the American origin of the package which exploded because both the fragments of the parcels and the pouch itself were marked, "U. S. Mail." Also, among the fragments were described pieces of metal and parts of products manufactured in the United States, not further identified. PADRON VICENS, according to the article, stated each country has its own characteristics in its mail bags; merely by looking at the kind of canvas, one can identify United States mail bags. This was done in this instance without taking into consideration that the mail bag which exploded had a tag showing that it was sent from New York by Dispatch No. 96, Mail Bag No. 15, containing ten packages.

Re: FOREIGN POLITICAL MATTERS - CUBA

The newspaper contained numerous photographs with explanations indicating that their readers could readily observe the mail bag was still sealed, which showed "that the artifact was introduced in the mail bag in the United States."

Cuba Considering New Measures for Handling United States Mail

This article related that in view of the mail bag explosion, the Government of Cuba was considering the adoption of defensive measures concerning the handling of packages coming to Cuba from the United States via the mail system. The article did not state what measures were actually under consideration at this time.

Identities of Cubans Injured in Explosion

On January 10, 1968, "El Mundo," newspaper published at Havana, Cuba, under the complete control and direction of the CASTRO Communist Government of Cuba, reported that five Cuban postal employees were seriously injured during the explosion. They were listed as:

JUAN PABLO BERNAL. BERNAL was described as being in the Recovery Room of the Hospital Manuel Fajardo; Cuba

On January 11, 1968, the 12:01 a.m. news broadcast of "Radio Progreso" reported that JUAN PABLO BERNAL continued to be on the critical list; however, the others who were injured in the explosion had improved, and were recovering satisfactorily.

Re: FOREIGN POLITICAL MATTERS - CUBA

A piece of shrapnel penetrated the cranium of SILVIO MONTES DE COA. He would have lost his life had the shrapnel penetrated a few millimeters more. The photo shows clearly the large size of the wound, and at the end of the doctor's forceps can be seen the size of the fragment which was imbedded in his head. ("Granma," January 9, 1968), pg. 1.

The upper photo shows the fastener on the pouch in which the bomb was hidden. The readers can see that the fastener is still sealed, which shows that the bomb was introduced at the place of origin: the United States. The tag clearly shows that the pouch was sent by the Postal Administration of New York, that it was Sack No. 15, Bill No. 96, and that it contained ten parcels. Below, the other parcels which were destroyed by the explosion. ("El Mundo," January 10, 1968), pg. 2.
